Over the DESKTOP

"Greetings from Alpha!" The Christmas card cover on this last issue of 1984 was put together by the Alpha Chapter House Corporation. This particular cover idea which has been lurking in the editor's mind for years, started to become a reality two years ago when I broached the idea of picturing the historic Founders' Room on a magazine cover, to the Alpha Advisory Board Chairman. In correct Theta procedure, she referred me to the corporation president, Betty Givens in Indianapolis. Assuming the chapter house would be decorated for Christmas, I outlined my idea, only to be told that Christmas vacation at DePauw started so early in December that the house would not be decorated. That turned out to be only a minor obstacle. The Alpha Corporation really has it "all together." "Not to worry" was the attitude from the beginning. A tree would be brought from Indianapolis and the living room decorated by a professional.

Then in September last year during the weekend of the dedication of the new headquarters in Indianapolis, we took advantage of the excursion to DePauw and Alpha chapter to meet with Betty Givens and plan the picture. And while we are at it, why not a picture of the gracious stairway in the foyer?

The pictures were taken in December 1983 by a DePauw photographer, and all Thetas may enjoy them this year, courtesy of the Alpha Chapter House Corporation.

We are indebted to Catherine Tillotson McCord for her documentation of the history of the Alpha chapter house. During the more than 20 years I have worked with Kappa Alpha Theta, Catherine has always been "in the picture" at Alpha; her interest and support go back many more years.

Update on Theta runner

Several Thetas have asked, "What happened to our Olympic Marathon hopeful, Marianne Dickerson?" An article about Marianne Dickerson of Delta chapter, in the summer Magazine, told about her qualifying for the Olympic trials in Olympia, WA. Unfortunately, shortly before the trials, Marianne developed runners anemia. At about the same time a pronation problem in her feet was discovered. Both conditions are being treated. Thus the young woman who at 22 was the world's 2nd fastest women's marathon runner was denied a chance to compete in the 1984 Olympics. Look for her in 1988. She'll be only 26, a prime age for marathon runners.

We were wrong

In the Spring 1981 Magazine, the editor referred to the idea being expressed by some, that a shrinking pool of volunteers caused by women returning to the work force could create problems in the operation of the fraternity. A "phantom fear" we said. Well, the threat is real now in 1984. It took three years for the back-to-

Alpha's chapter house stands on the site of the first home the chapter ever owned. During the first fifty years of Theta's existence, DePauw University did not permit women's groups to own their own homes. When this ruling was relented Alpha was the first group on campus to purchase a house. "Beechcroft" was acquired, a beautiful old home, dear to the hearts of Thetas. It was the home of Col. James Riley Weaver, a retired DePauw professor and early Consul to Vienna, Austria. The Weaver's two daughters were Thetas and often were hostesses to elegant Theta parties.

The Kappa Alpha Theta Convention of 1876 in Greencastle held its banquet in this home, at that time owned by Judge Turman.

The Weaver house was slightly remodeled to fit the needs of its new occupants, at that time twenty some girls. In 1940 the house was razed and the present structure built, just before the rising construction costs brought on by World War II. The cost was slightly under one hundred thousand dollars. It was planned for a chapter of forty-five, then the limit for a chapter. Now it houses sixty-five.

The new home has a pillared front porch, the one thing insisted upon by alumnae. During the year of construction the chapter was housed in a home the Alpha Chi Omegas vacated to move into their new home. A mortgage loan made possible the financing of Alpha's new house, and this was repaid in fifteen years.

The large drawing room was dedicated as the "Founders' Room" since Thetas from all over the country had contributed by small gifts to the furnishing of this room. The gifts are recorded in a large book kept in the breakfront in that room. The rug in the Founders' Room is also a thing of beauty and interest—a beautiful Yedz oriental around which many tales have been spun. Rumors among the students have had it the largest oriental in existence! While this is an exaggeration, it is large, 18 x 32, which after these forty-three years of use shows little wear, and has always set the key for decorating.

No significant structural changes have been made to the house but with constant care and careful attention to upkeep and necessary replacements, it still serves the chapter well. The extensive grounds are enhanced with large old trees and lovely landscaping.

This chapter house is special not only for its history but because of the collection of memorabilia and records displayed in the chapter room. For many years Alpha chapter was the custodian of the national Theta archives, before they were moved to Evanston where they could be seen by more Thetas who visited our headquarters. They are now in the archives department of our new permanent headquarters in Indianapolis.

Alpha members are always pleased to welcome Thetas who come to call and take a look around at an important part of our heritage.

Alpha Mu sparkles on Diamond Jubilee

By Jeanne Broemmelsick Toma

"A toast to Kappa Alpha Theta . . . for recognizing the value of the company of women."

And thus began one of six decade luncheons on March 31, 1984, in Columbia Missouri, home of Alpha Mu chapter. The celebration of Alpha Mu's 75th Anniversary was a once-in-a-lifetime gathering for nearly one third of all living Alpha Mu initiates.

The event was the result of a year of planning and months of concentrated effort. Chairman Janet Beaven Campbell, Paula Oviatt Kurtz, and Phyllis McDandel Reesman, with the full support and backing of AM's House Corporation, organized an efficient steering committee, branching out from six decade chairmen to class representatives for every year, empty ranks in the first two decades notwithstanding. The search to find Alpha Mus was exhaustive; the results were rewarding with 96 lost Thetas found and 268 changes recorded for Central Office.

The grouping by decade provided a framework for organization of the celebration. Activities for Friday and Saturday evenings took place at a banquet facility. Saturday morning brunch was held at the chapter house. Perhaps the most enjoyable events of the weekend were the decade luncheons, held at different restaurants in Columbia. The program for each luncheon was planned by each decade; merriment and singing abounded. The initiation class with the largest attendance was 1945 with 63% of its members present. The decade of 1965-1974 was also well represented and this group had a little extra fun with a questionnaire. The responses reveal an interesting profile and are a tribute to the blending of career and family interests. The figures representing 20% of total members initiated during that decade, divulged a group of Thetas whose lives seem to have turned out better than the national statistics would suggest. (Of course a statistician would tell us, these are the type of people who attend reunions but we really like what we heard.)

The typical Alpha Mu Theta initiated 1965-74 earned an undergraduate degree, probably in education (37%), nursing (15%) or journalism (13.4) and opted for a career in that field or a related one. Her goals for life and career have changed a little during the last ten years, but not dramatically. She does find her priorities changing. She has held only one to three different jobs since graduation, remaining in each job one to three years. She is employed outside the home (64.5%), working for a corporation, and earning between $16,000 to $25,000 a year. Somehow she finds time to do volunteer work (80.6%)!

When Alpha Mu celebrated her 50-year anniversary in 1959, 13 of the original 25 initiates were present. Of these, only two are living and neither could attend the 75th Anniversary Celebration. We visited with one of them, longtime Columbia resident Miss Elizabeth Spalding. We asked about the early Alpha Mus, who were reported to be "refined, sensible, and with pleasant manners." "What were they like?" we asked, expecting tales of women ahead of their time, suffragettes, to flappers with Virginia Slims. "Well, they were all different," said Miss Spalding. What activities did they participate in? "Well, we tried to see that somebody was in everything," she replied. We agreed that the more things change, the more they stay the same. "Girls are girls," she said, "they're alike in every generation. They may think they're different, may have a different name on it, but they're the same stuff."

Alpha Mu's Diamond Jubilee reminded us all that our Theta friendships are forever. As Banquet Speaker Avis Green Tucker asked, "Why did you decide to come? Because of the highly gratifying experience, and the high regard you hold for it." And she later added, "Kappa Alpha Theta is the thread of gold woven into the fabric of my life." She spoke for all Alpha Mus who were grateful for this special opportunity to weave the threads a little closer at this special celebration.

Friendships and Loyalty rekindled at Founders' Day 1984

Ft. Collins, CO

"We have come a long way and wouldn't they be proud." Ruth Bestland Brown was speaking about our Founders at the Ft. Collins Founders' Day luncheon held jointly with Beta Gamma collegians last February. Ruth Brown, president of the alumnae chapter said, "I think it is important that we see them (our Founders) today, not as quaint little ladies with ruffled collars and strange hair-dos, but while maybe not the Sally Ride and Sandra Day O'Connor of their time, certainly as pioneers for women's rights. That is why we are here today—to celebrate the courage and vision of Bettie Locke, Alice Allen, Hannah Fitch, and Bettie Tipton.

At the luncheon Nancy Morrison was given the Kappa Alpha Theta Pledge of the Year Award at Beta Gamma. Stephanie Miller received the Margaret Seaton Blevins Senior Award.

District XVI ADP and member of the Ft. Collins chapter Mimi Ried spoke on the history of the fraternity system. "The world has also grown and changed since the days of Bettie Locke and her friends. Gratefully our fraternity has adapted to this continuing growth and change without sacrificing the ideals our founders held so dear. The challenges have been met and we have emerged in strength and unity. Theta continues to stress academic excellence, social growth and friendship without the use of drugs and alcohol, and a moral responsibility in young women of today."

Fifty year Thetas introduced were Barbara Anthony Bailey, Harriet Savage Schloo, and Gayle Turner.

Birmingham, MI

Below zero weather couldn't keep 80 stout-hearted Thetas away from the Birmingham Country Club to celebrate Founders' Day. Among the hardy were twelve 50 year Thetas and this year's special honoree—75 year Theta Ruby Severance Gripman.

Ruby Gripman regaled her Theta sisters with tales of her experiences as a young coed at Michigan. She was a special person at Grand Convention too, as the actual presentation of her 75 year pin was made at Nashville in June. She is still an active, participating member of the Birmingham chapter.

The newest Golden Theta in the Birmingham chapter is Margaret Baird Kuhn, Beta Pi who received her pin at the luncheon. Ann Sasscer Rumsey, Beta Rho, and Janet Amend Mitschke, Tau were also honored as 50 year Thetas but were unable to attend.

Chicago Northwest Suburban

"Remembering" was the theme of the Founders' Day luncheon of the Chicago Northwest Suburban Alumnae chapter, held at the home of Charlene Barlow Soper, Beta Kappa, Drake.

Remembering Theta, alumnae greeted old and new friends in front of roaring fireplaces. The warmth and love generated, quickly displaced the cold and chill of sub-zero weather.

Remembering the kite we fly, Thetas enjoyed a delicious luncheon served at beautifully appointed tables—both creations of the Founders' Day Committee.

Remembering the twin stars shining, our honored guests, 50-year Thetas, shared their memories of college days with a rapt audience. Every Theta present felt honored to hear of steamer trunks, moonlight walks, train trips away from home, and to see pictures of proud Thetas in front of the Theta house and again at a fifty-year reunion. Special Theta stars of the day were Ruth Thompson Meyers, Tau, Northwestern; Ruth Elliott Webb and Elsie Robers Smith both Beta Tau, Denison; and Mildred Carson Blades, Beta Kappa, Drake.

Remembering the black and gold, those attending lit candles during chapter roll call in which 22 chapters were represented. In the candlelight we sang "World of Friendship." Sisterhood did come shining through.

Dusk was approaching and the blazing fires were becoming embers as we departed our 1984 Founders' Day luncheon, Theta hearts aglow.

Remembering our founding sisters, remembering the friendships gained and remembering Theta, made each of us a little prouder to be a member of this first Greek letter fraternity among women.

Columbus

Three generations of Thetas attended the annual Founders' Day luncheon at the Columbus Alumnae Chapter in January. Lois Fish, a 67-year Theta; her daughter, Margaret Rockwood; and her daughter, Mary Lois Setterlin, were all on hand at Scioto Country Club to celebrate the beginnings of our fraternity. All had been initiated into Alpha chapter at DePauw.

Honored at the luncheon were 50-year Thetas Dorothy Baldwin, Elizabeth Gilchrist, Elizabeth Rose Williams and Margaret McKenney.

Members of Alpha Gamma, Ohio State University also joined in the celebration. They honored their members by presenting to six girls Theta pins that have been bequeathed or donated to the Alpha Gamma chapter throughout the years. Chosen by secret ballot by chapter members, those selected were Laura Heck, freshman honor pin; Cindy Bailey, sophomore; Colleen Conry, senior honor; Anne Bell, senior scholarship, Bessie Mumma, senior creativity; and Christy Schloss, senior service.

Des Moines

The Iowa winter weather was thoroughly under control for the Des Moines Founders' Day last January. With not a hint of a blizzard and only the cold weather to contend with, more than 100 Thetas turned out to honor our Founders and hear a talk by Des Moines City Councilwoman, Theta Marie Wilson. She spoke of the continuing challenges to women and the significant accomplishments that can be made through networking our talents and working together. She related the success of our founders to that of her political campaign which was made up predominantly of women volunteers. "We Thetas can be proud of the networking we've begun in helping one another with job selection opportunities," she said. The Institute of Logopedics got a boost that day too as Thetas turned in more than 400 Campbell Soup labels with which audio-visual and educational equipment may be purchased for faculty and student use.

Amarillo

Barbara Miner opened her home to Thetas this past January as they gathered to celebrate Founders' Day in the traditional manner . . . delicious food, the Founders' service, contributions to the Friendship Fund, and best of all the fellowship of Theta friends.

Miami

Biscayne Bay was the beautiful setting and the Coral Reef Yacht Club was the place that Miami Thetas gathered in 1984 to celebrate Founders' Day. Two 50-year Thetas, Milbrey Markle and Banks Sharp were presented with their pansy pins. Mary Dutcher was honored as this year's outstanding Theta. Mary's recognition was bestowed for her years of service as recommendation board chairman, chairman of the Mother-Daughter coffee, Panhellenic Rush Information Committee Chairman and the typer of names for the yearbook.

Bloomington

Severe winter storms in Indiana during Christmas vacation were indirectly responsible for a very special and meaningful Founders' Day for the Bloomington Alumnae. Indiana University normally has deferred rush (2nd semester) but it was even more delayed this year because of water damage due to frozen pipes in many Greek houses on campus.

When the Bloomington Thetas met at the Beta chapter house at the end of January to celebrate our founding, there were 26 new Beta pledges of less than a week as guests. Watching the pledges at their first exposure to Theta tradition, we saw their excitement and were able to feel again the thrill we all felt when we first knew how special Theta was to us.

Milwaukee

This year, as usual, our Founders' Day luncheon was a light-hearted, joyful affair attended by Thetas representing a complete cross section of our national fraternity. We gathered on this wintry day at Milwaukee's Westmoor Country Club. There were our honored women whose years of membership numbered fifty or more; there were our alumnae members both from Milwaukee and the Lake Country Club and to complete the picture a number of Psi (Wisconsin) collegians joined in the celebration. It was a time to catch up with old friends and to be introduced to some new ones. Our collegians gave a colorful slide presentation entitled, "Life at Madison." That took the rest of us back a few years. It also reminded us happily that not everything has changed completely in the past number of years. Thank goodness! It was an afternoon filled with laughter, camaraderie, good food and pleasant memories.

Montgomery, AL

When Montgomery Thetas got together for Founders' Day this past January, they had a year of solid accomplishment to celebrate as well as the Founding of our Fraternity. The Montgomery Thetas sold the most poinsettias in the Panhellenic Poinsettia Sale, thus earning the privilege of giving a scholarship to a Montgomery Theta. Community projects in which the club participated were the Sunshine Domestic Abuse Center, Operation Santa Claus, Meals on Wheels and the police department drive for needy families.

However, the special highlight of Founders' Day was the privilege of honoring a fifty year Theta, Elizabeth Bowers Hill, Alpha Phi, Sophie Newcomb.

Eugene, OR

"A lovely, moving evening enjoyed by all," was the consensus on the joint Founders' Day program held with Alpha Xi members at the chapter house.

It was a candlelight dinner with the Founders' Service performed in a darkened hall with each Theta also lighting her own candle.

Long Island, New York

Mixing business with a celebration, Thetas of the Long Island Alumnae Club held a "particularly dynamic" Founders' Day luncheon.

Topping the business was a decision to start a Long Island KΑΘ Scholarship Award, which was given this spring for the first time to a graduating high school student who will be entering M.I.T. this fall, Carla Kapikian. Patricia Meyers, a charter member of the alumnae club directed the scholarship committee.

Other items of business included plans for a garage sale fund raiser to follow up on a successful Santa's Shop, and formation of a committee to draft new bylaws.

Philadelphia

The presence of 30 members of the new college chapter at Villanova added great interest to the celebration of Theta's 114th year by the Philadelphia Alumnae chapter. For their first appearance at Founders' Day, Epsilon Xi members performed for the alumnae, doing their rush skits including original music, and dancing to the music of "A Chorus Line" in costume.

Principal speaker was Carolyn Heiman McGrory, Beta Eta, Pennsylvania, RN, M.Ed. She is a clinical specialist in rheumatology at Hahemann Hospital in Philadelphia. Her topic was Rheumatic Diseases and Lupus. Another Beta Eta, Carol Hartmann Brehman, Grand Vice-President—College informed the group about "what's going on in Thetaland."

Eight 50 year Thetas were presented: Martha Coleman Bray, Alpha; Jean Kriebel Buck, Beta Phi; Joan Younger Dickinson, Alpha Gamma; Jean Francksen, Beta Eta; Alice Erickson Garlock, Beta Kappa; Betty Cloudy Hillier, Beta Phi; Dorothy Berryman Putney, Alpha Upsilon; Sara Bushany Yeats, Beta Phi. Sixty-five year Theta, Mae Halverson, Beta Eta; and seventy-five year Theta Amy Baker Ferguson, Alpha Beta were also honored.

The 1983 Outstanding Theta award recipient, Carol Hoyt Burns, Alpha Mu, presented the 1984 award to Sidney Bohlen Spahr, Gamma Lambda.

St. Louis

The 75th Anniversary of the St. Louis Alumnae shared billing with the 114th Anniversary of Kappa Alpha Theta at Founders' Day last January. The tables were decorated with festive paper sacks filled with horns, streamers and flowers . . . props for the 140 Thetas who came to celebrate.

A fashion show of clothing worn for important occasions over the last 75 years featured Theta models in clothing owned by Thetas or their relatives. Five fifty year Thetas honored were Catherine Bull Von Brecht, Dorothy Dittmann Mill, both Alpha Iota; Elaine Bjorklund Ground, Beta Omicron; Martha Nicklas Hause, Mu; Margaret Wilson Martin, Alpha Gamma. Other 50 year honorees unable to be present were Helen Mardorf, Grace Powe Crosby, Margaret Cornwell Schmidt, Alpha Iota; Gertrude Lozier Miller, Beta Tau; Lois Harris Haefele, Beta Kappa. Eugenia Hauck Buder, Alpha Iota was the only 75 year Theta and was honored in absentia. Mrs. Buder has participated in alumnae activities for many years, and has graciously opened her home for many Theta occasions.

Founders' Day 1984 was a wonderful afternoon to reaffirm our bonds in Theta sisterhood.

San Francisco

Welcomed by the San Francisco Alumnae, Thetas from all over the Bay area—undergraduate and alumnae, age 19 to past 90, representing nearly 50 chapters from coast to coast gathered at the Century Club of California in San Francisco, to celebrate Founders' Day and the 75th anniversary of the San Francisco Alumnae Chapter.

Preceded by a social hour that made the quietly classic halls ring with reunions and new meetings in accord with Thetas everywhere, a three-course luncheon began with Theta Grace, and was followed by the candlelight toast to the Four Founders. Golden year Thetas were recognized, the Chapter Roll called and an address by State Chairman Ruth Wilbur, followed the theme "Twin Star Memories"—a meld of past, present and future, tracing the history of the San Francisco Alumnae Chapter from 1909 through its growth and expansion into other alumnae chapters of Northern California. Ruth Wilbur recalled her own vivid memories of the Grand Convention of 1926 at the Clift Hotel in San Francisco, when as a junior at Stanford, she was "plunged into the realization of the fact that it was a national organization and not just a local group of congenial college girls concentrated on one campus for four years" . . . and on to the broadening activities of the San Francisco Alumnae Chapter through the years from gala benefits for philanthropies (long gowns and Flaming Festivals) and to the Spartan observances during World War II, when the San Francisco Theta group furnished the first WAAC Recreation Room in San Francisco at Fort Mason; to the large participation of the San Francisco Thetas in continuing charities.

Ruth said modestly afterward when we congratulated and thanked her for her wonderfully four-dimensional speech, "Well—they laughed in the right places." It was abundantly true that she had given us the opportunity of seeing the strength of Theta—over 100 chapters and still growing, of seeing individuality, diversity and yet unity, and that there is strength in believing in the aims and verities of the Founders—as satisfying to the young women of today as they were to the women of 1870. They had the courage and the vision to see that joining together in love and sisterhood could be a way to nobler womanhood and a commitment for a lifetime."

Seattle

Founders' Day is the most exciting day on the Theta calendar for members of the Seattle Alumnae Chapter. This is a day of unification; a day of remembrances past; and a day of renewal. Thetas from all over the Puget Sound area gather together to honor our founding women; to greet old friends while making new ones; and to renew the spirit of Theta in their hearts and minds.

In 1984, through the efforts of Founders' Day Chairman, Jerene Battisti, a special surprise awaited the new University of Washington initiates: their own Theta badges, pinned on them by alumnae, thus confirming the link between new Thetas and those who have worn the kite for many years.

Delois Faulkner, BZ, alcoholism crusader

Adapted from an article by William Booth in the Austin American-Statesman

The Faulkner Center, a restored mansion where lives broken by alcohol addiction are being restored.

Restored mansion: a statement for restored dignity

Delois Faulkner, Beta Zeta, is determined to bring alcoholism out of the dark ages. After alcoholism caused the death of one member of her family, and another member became addicted, she began to learn all she could about the disease and its treatment. She commuted between Dallas and the Johnson Institute in Minneapolis studying the disease.

"It's a helpless and hopeless feeling trying to help an alcoholic," she says. "I just wanted to learn the tools you need to help."

A very successful businesswoman who made a fortune in real estate, Delois Faulkner became certified by the state of Texas as a chemical dependency therapist. Following that step, she said that her decision to open a treatment center in Texas was inevitable. She bought an old mansion in Austin, known as the Wooten Mansion. Now the Faulkner Center, it is the headquarters of the Faulker Foundation and the adjoining 70 bed treatment center. Delois Faulker personally spent more than $3 million in renovating the mansion and constructing the treatment center. The Faulkner Foundation is a non-profit organization through which she hopes to educate the public about the disease, while the Faulkner Center treatment facility is operated for profit.

Delois Faulkner wants to bring dignity to the treatment of alcoholism. She draws a parallel between the now stately mansion and its condition before the renovation, and the state of an alcoholic. "Before it was restored, it was withdrawn, isolated, abandoned, covered up by decay. We had to peel off layer after layer before we could see how beautiful it really is."

While at Oklahoma State, she was president of Beta Zeta. Her friends entered her in 12 beauty contests which she won, becoming Maid of Cotton in 1955. After a tour of ceremonial goodwill for the cotton industry, she returned to Oklahoma and appeared on her own fashion talk show on TV in Oklahoma City.

Because alcoholism is a "family disease" though only one member may be addicted, the Faulkner Center treatment program includes help and treatment for the co-dependent family members. The plan recognizes the parity of the disease with the dependent and co-dependent members.

High on the fourth floor of the mansion, Delois Faulkner had a small porch built. Looking down at the courtyard garden below she said, "So much healing goes on right down there. People don't feel so different when they have someone to talk to who has been through the same thing."

They know whereof they speak, and they're helping

"new life" replaced dependency

Carleen Hunt has a master's degree in counseling and she is working toward a doctorate at Peabody college of Vanderbilt University. She is a recovered alcoholic and is now working in the field of alcohol-related problems, helping others in counseling and education.

This is not the scenario she planned for her life. Nobody plans to become addicted to alcohol, but it happens and that is somewhat predictable. The role of education concerning the disease of alcoholism focuses on the patterns that very often lead from social drinking to solitary drinking and eventual chemical dependence.

Carleen Hunt will be speaking to members of her own chapter, Alpha Eta at Vanderbilt University, and she'll be talking about the progression of the use of alcohol, and she will very likely use her own experiences as a case study.

She pinpoints the beginning of her social drinking at summer social functions while in college. The predictable part of her life unfolded as she graduated at 22, married, and settled down to a lifestyle that she considered "very pleasing." Still on course, she became a housewife, started a family, became active in volunteer work and politics. "Everything was marvelous," she said. Life was fun, exciting and assuring. It was acceptable to drink and at most social functions drinks were served. Gatherings became important to her as the social events became excuses to drink.

"I didn't see it then, but I wanted to go to more parties, more functions, have more parties at home. It is an insidious kind of thing the way it happens."

Somewhere she crossed the line, drinking more and more to calm her nerves and cope with stress. She started withdrawing from activities, questioning what she was doing. She retreated into her house. She thought the alcohol was calming her down. Fewer drinks made her more intoxicated. Depression increased. The predictable life had veered off course. She began seeing a psychiatrist.

The woman who was taught to be in control, landed in a mental hospital for what was diagnosed not as alcoholism but as anxiety neurosis.

During her stay there she improved because alcohol was not available. "I realized I was an alcoholic. Out of the blue I decided to go to Alcoholics Anonymous and it turned my life around."

Carleen Hunt has not had a drink in 13 years. She is helping others to avoid the predictable consequences of progressive drinking, and for some individuals this means never starting to drink.

"nice" women can be alcoholics

My friend is a mother, wife, community volunteer and a Theta. She plays golf, bridge, entertains, goes to the theater and takes vacations. So far she sounds just like someone you know. She also has days she can't or doesn't want to get out of bed; she can't remember hours from the day before; she has embarrassed her husband and children. She often avoids friends, misses appointments, and acts strangely. Her doctor and psychiatrist are treating her with valium to ease the symptoms of depression, paranoia, schizophrenia. My friend is alcoholic, but she continues on her merry-go-round because everyone knows "nice, respectable" women don't have alcoholism. This was the prevailing theory fifteen years ago when I wore "my friend's" shoes.

My story is not much different from that of the other 5 million women suffering from this potentially fatal disease. The reasons for choosing to stop the merry-go-round may vary, but the one heard most often is, "we get sick and tired of being sick and tired."

Recovery began at a treatment hospital almost fourteen years ago. Learning to live without the aid of a chemical requires a lot of readjustment and those first two years weren't always easy. Regaining one's self-respect, self-confidence, and ability to cope can be seemingly slow and difficult, but wonderful things began to happen.

The biggest boost came from my Theta sisters who asked me to co-chair their annual fund raiser. At the time I felt they had more faith in me than I did, but it was a success and a major step in the restoration of my self-confidence.

In spite of my doubts, an old friend was pushing me to go into the alcoholism counseling field. The next thing I knew, I was in Seattle University's Alcohol Studies Program, getting all A's (this was the party girl of earlier college days?), and classmates were talking me into my first pair of jeans! A job opportunity at a community alcohol center materialized, and I was not only a student (night classes), but a full-time working woman. This was quite an experience for someone whose employment record had been brief and whose background had been fairly sheltered. My husband's observation was that my language was getting a little "salty."

A local treatment hospital decided it wanted to try a woman on its counseling staff, so I cleaned up my language and faced this new challenge. I loved the work and would probably still be there if I were alone. However, hospital hours (nights, Sundays, holidays), the anticipation of becoming a grandmother, lack of financial need, fairness to my family led me to "retirement." I had proven to myself I could "make it" in that world out there.

At this point I want to give credit to my husband and family for their love, encouragement and understanding during my difficult stages of growth. The pride they showed in my achievements made each new adventure possible.

After these few years of constant activity and mental stimulation, I felt lost (closets don't need cleaning on a daily basis). Again Theta came to my rescue, making me dues and membership chairman. About the same time, I was appointed to the county Alcohol and Drug Abuse Administrative Board, serving as vice chairman and then chairman (its first woman officer and second woman ever appointed to the board). I am now on the advisory committee for two treatment hospitals and a research institute.

During the past several years, I have chosen to be completely open about my alcoholism and have had the opportunity to speak to various women's groups, always with the hope that my sharing will give some "nice, respectable" woman the courage and patience to get well.

The future promises excitement and new challenges. Our Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation has awarded the Seattle Alumnae and the Alpha Lambda chapters one of its community involvement grants for the establishment of an alcohol and drug information center at the University of Washington. I am coordinator of this endeavor as well as the new second vice-president of the Seattle Alumnae Chapter. Could anyone ask for more than being able to work in two favorite fields at the same time? My cup (coffee) runneth over! I am very proud that Theta is willing to support this very urgent need.

Two years ago, "my friend" was named one of two recipients of the Seattle Alumnae Chapter's Twin Star Award for service to Theta and the community. It's still hard to believe she is the same woman whose shoes I once wore—we've come a long way since then!

A moving (but anonymous) letter from a family member who asks that we share his sentiments

Dear Theta alumna:

I am sorry not to be able to address you more personally, but without your name I can do little else.

This is to acknowledge receipt of the _____ Alumnae Chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta resolution of September 8, 1983, expressing the sorrow of its members over the death of my sister. I appreciated receiving this message, and I regret waiting until the first anniversary of her death to let you know this.

It is very difficult for me to say anything, but I want to try. _____ is gone and nothing will bring her back. We all loved her, you in your way and I in mine. She was a great person at one time, with charm, talent, friendliness, love, devotion to family and sorority, in fact with all the virtues that one would hope to find in a real person of this world. Unfortunately, a terrible disease struck her, one that if left unchecked, will result in death, and it did in her case. I regret that I did not have the courage to do something about it, and know when I did, it was too late. She was beyond the point of assistance.

I have been told that Kappa Alpha Theta has begun a program aimed at acquainting pledges, members and alumnae of the peril of alcoholism and its tightening grip upon the human will and body as the disease progresses. I am glad to know this because I think it will save lives, will help people who have reason left to realize what they are doing, and abstain; will provide those in a day-to-day or periodic contact with the sick to give them help. Perhaps we should all look around us and begin to give strength and courage to the weak. It is a great program of awareness. My regret is that in _____'s case it came too late.

If you would share these sentiments with your alumnae sisters, I would appreciate it.

Sincerely yours,

Fraternity and University leaders meet to discuss alcohol problems

Over 140 fraternity, sorority and university leaders met in Indianapolis last summer to investigate the issue of alcohol use and to adopt policies for implementing existing resolutions on the subject.

"Drinking Greek Style: A National Workshop on Alcohol Education and Policy for Fraternities and Sororities" offered participants a wide variety of educational programs of the alcohol problem. As a result of the task groups' study of existing resolutions were specific recommendations including the creation of campus groups composed of alcohol distributors, students and university administrators that would implement guidelines on the marketing of alcoholic beverages.

Panhellenic activities reach out

Good relationships emphasized at Baylor

An evaluation of Baylor's Panhellenic reveals an earnest effort to promote and maintain good relations. Not only are inter-sorority relations considered, but those outside the sorority framework as well.

Because Baylor's rush is deferred until the beginning of Spring semester, relations with those students outside the Greek system are magnified in importance.

Among the sororities, good feelings are fostered, especially among the Panhellenic delegates. The delegates have dinner together at least twice a semester, encouraging friendship.

The one activity involving all sororities for the purpose of promoting friendships is sponsored by Epsilon Epsilon chapter. A new tradition is the Christmas party given by Theta in the chapter room. Each sorority provides short entertainment, refreshments are served and Christmas carols are sung around a towering Christmas tree. Sorority sponsors and faculty join in, and goodwill is almost tangible.

Baylor's Panhellenic sets a positive tone on campus in its relations with rushees and other sororities. Active promotion of friendship among sororities transcends the Greek system. In learning that friends can be found in other sororities, Greeks also realize they can be found outside sororities as well. This intermingling in genuine friendship is the best PR any Panhellenic can hope for.

Leadership seminar aids Greeks at Clemson

Clemson University's office of Student Life sponsored the first "Greek Leadership Day" seminar for all Greek leaders on campus last spring. Theta's president, vice president-pledge, Panhellenic delegate, marshal, social and fraternity education chairman attended various workshops. Keynote speaker, Dr. Jack Stevenson, director of the Honors Program at Clemson, began Greek Leadership Day with a speech on the qualities of a good leader and leadership in today's voluntary organizations.

Workshops included, "Legal Issues Facing your Chapter," "A Problem Member within a Chapter," "Alcohol Awareness/Social Programming," and "Chapter Standards of Excellence."

This seminar was another positive effort to enhance Greek communications at Clemson University.

Duke PH Council improves rush

Duke's Panhellenic Council has been actively working with the administration to improve their relationship. Sorority rush, long thought by the administration to be too stressful for the rushees, has been reevaluated and changed. Under the leadership of Theta Ellen Dracos, Panhellenic president, the intensity of rush has been relaxed. This year instead of a two and a half week spring rush, there will be some informal fall Panhellenic parties to promote Greek life, and a lengthened three week formal rush in the spring. Also, Panhellenic and IFC switched the emphasis of Greek Week from social to philanthropic. Therefore many Greek organizations planned their spring fund-raisers for this time. Community services that sororities and fraternities provide have been drawn to public attention. Panhellenic has been quick to promote and help university endorsed service programs such as providing relief for area tornado victims this spring. We are working to bridge any gaps between the administration and Greek organizations.

Panhellenic/IFC are active in Atlanta

The Panhellenic at Emory University has been an active participant in the Atlanta community for many years. The 1983-84 school year has been no exception.

In December, the Panhellenic and Interfraternity Councils took part in the Festival of Trees Christmas parade. The Christmas parade, Atlanta's first in twenty years, commenced a nine day celebration to raise money for numerous Atlanta charities. Among the beneficiaries was the Henrietta Egleston Children's Hospital on the Emory University campus. Sorority and fraternity members dressed as clowns, and marched in the parade with local children and helped to guide floats, such as the Bullwinkle float which is seen annually in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade. Although the day was rainy, spirits were not dampened; rather, a good time was shared by all who took part.

Panhellenic and IFC are also combining their talents to publish The Emory News, a campus-wide newspaper written from a Greek perspective. The intent of this newspaper is to provide independents and even many Greeks with a more informed view of the role of sororities and fraternities on the Emory campus. Despite setbacks, such as lack of administrative financial support, the first issue of The Emory News was published in April 1984. An enthusiastic committee is already planning next year's issues of The Emory News, and hopes that it will become one of Emory's major student publications.

Greek activities diversified at Cal-Riverside

The Greek System at the University of California, Riverside is comprised of almost 300 students, about half of whom are sorority members. Our three Panhellenic sororities are all on good terms and hold joint Presents and Initiation dances.

Competition among sororities is friendly, such as aiming for the highest chapter GPA and various activities during the campus' annual Scots' Week. The National Panhellenic Conference awarded us a plaque for Panhellenic Spirit and this past Spring our Panhellenic President, Tamera Roe (a Theta), attended the Western Regional Conference at Lake Tahoe.

College Panhellenic has also this year been the recipient of third place recognition for the NPC Awards Committee Trophy, signifying "general excellence in Program, Scholastic Achievement, and Service to Campus and Community." Academic achievement is stressed at UC Riverside and our current cumulative Panhellenic GPA is approximately 3.0, higher than the All-Women's GPA.

Panhellenic at UC Riverside enjoys a fantastic relationship not only with the rest of the community, but with the Riverside Alumnae Panhellenic. Sorority members assisted in a tour of historic Riverside homes, sponsored by the Alumnae Panhellenic. In the spring the Alumnae group distributed several awards and scholarships to sorority members, including a silver tray to the sorority with the highest cumulative GPA.

Service projects included spreading Christmas cheer in convalescent homes and the Sunshine School for handicapped children. We also sponsored a meeting on campus about burglaries and how to avoid them.

Greek revival at Connecticut

In the 70s many fraternities and sororities left the campus at Storrs, CT. Now they are back and just beginning to regain their previous strength at the University of Connecticut. Because of this, the IFC and Panhellenic are working closely together to present a strong and organized front to the students and faculty. Their goals are to increase awareness, interest and understanding of what Greek life is really about.

Many students at Connecticut do not know what fraternities are or what they do. Panhellenic hopes to change that with the help of a freshman orientation booklet which IFC and PH are working on together. The booklet will be given to all freshmen during summer orientation. It contains information on all IFC and PH chapters on campus.

Panhellenic is also trying to visually promote its strength and unity by asking chapter members to wear their pins every first and third Friday. In this way we hope to impress upon the university the fact that the Greek system is indeed large and strong. In the forthcoming year, Panhellenic will be placing several informative articles in the campus paper to increase campus wide understanding of the Greek system.

We are working to combat drug and alcohol abuse. During Greek Week the IFC/Panhellenic sponsored a car rally, the proceeds from which went to SADD (Students Against Drunk Driving). Dr. Tom Goodale was also recruited to speak on "Alcohol in the Greek System." He specifically addressed liability problems and the responsibility of Greek organizations to recognize and minimize the possibilities of alcohol and drug abuse. The lecture was open to the campus.

Theta Classic at Cincinnati

Springtime brings warm weather, sunshine, and for Thetas in Cincinnati, it brings Theta Classic. The Classic is a tennis tournament sponsored by the Alpha Tau chapter in Cincinnati to benefit Logopedics, held May 18-20.

Festivities for Theta Classic began weeks earlier. Parties to promote the tournament helped spread enthusiasm for the event throughout the Cincinnati campus.

Alpha Tau raised $1,000 from the tournament: $700 was donated to the Institute of Logopedics and $300 was given to the University of Cincinnati Student Foundation for campus activities.

University of Florida to host Southeastern Panhellenic meet

Thetas at the University of Florida lobbied for the Southeastern Panhellenic Conference next year and they were successful.

An active Panhellenic, the Gainesville Greek women have done their utmost to provide human and community services. Greek Week is the top event of the year, shared with IFC. Last Spring Greek Week activities raised $7,000 benefitting the Alachua County Special Olympics. Panhellenic also sponsored an Easter egg hunt at Alpha Omicron Pi for underprivileged children.

Besides providing service to the Gainesville community, the UF Greek system is striving to strengthen and maintain an image that is positive and constructive.

Jennifer Stanley

Creating a positive image at Florida State

While many people have false impressions of the college Greek system nationwide, the Panhellenic and IFC at Florida State University in Tallahassee are making a positive name for themselves in the Southeastern United States. During recent years, the fraternities and sororities on campus have teamed up during annual Greek Week festivities to raise more than $44,000 each year for the Muscular Dystrophy Association. This money is raised by donations, car washes, aerobathons, musical benefits, road races, and a dance-a-thon. This 24 hour dance winds up the productive week with many Greeks present to support the dances and discover the final amount of money raised during the week. The $44,000 plus raised by Greeks at Florida State is the largest amount raised by a Greek community for MDA in the Southeast and is one of the top contributions by Greeks nationwide.

Greeks gaining recognition at Fresno

In the past "the system" at Fresno State University had a somewhat negative connotation on campus. The Greeks had little power and were given little consideration in the student government. Panhellenic and Interfraternity Council members decided the only way to change the situation was to get involved and make their voices heard.

By the day of ASB officer election, there were seven Greek candidates for various executive offices. It seemed as though every measure was taken to encourage Greek voting. The fraternities even offered a "shuttle service" to the voting polls of sororities. The weeks of promoting Greeks in office proved to be successful.

With the full support of fraternities and sororities, the office of Student Body President is now occupied by a Greek member. Four other executive positions on the Student Council are filled by Greeks, including Alyson Baird; a source of pride for Gamma Chi. Alyson is also the standards chairman and Panhellenic delegate for the chapter.

Georgia Panhellenic is becoming more involved

Over the past year the Panhellenic Council at the University of Georgia has become increasingly involved in the Athen's community, on the University of Georgia campus, and in its relations with the IFC. Among its many charity concerns, Panhellenic has sponsored a blood drive for the Red Cross, care baskets for the American Cancer Society, has visited local hospitals and sold candy for the Girl Scouts.

This year the Southeastern Panhellenic Conference was held at the University of Georgia. More than seven hundred women from over seventy colleges participated in this conference.

On campus, the Panhellenic has sponsored women's seminars. Two of these seminars dealt with major problems facing college women today and their future: Women in a Man's World, and an Anorexia and Bulimia Symposium.

During Greek Week, Panhellenic cosponsored with IFC a carnival for retarded children. The children participated in many events from apple bobbing to the baseball throw. Also during Greek Week, to allow the sororities and fraternities to show their Greek spirit they sponsored a jersey day in which everyone wore his own Greek letters.

Stacy Stout

Panhellenic/IFC key to strong LSU Greek system

As the regulating body for the third largest Greek system in the country, the LSU Panhellenic and IFC are extremely active on campus. The fifteen national sororities and eighteen national fraternities look to these two groups for stability and guidance throughout the year, and especially during crucial periods such as rush.

The beginning of a positive attitude toward Greeks starts each fall with a joint project between Panhellenic and IFC known as Greek Week. During this week, specific days are designated as Jersey Day, Pin Day, and Greek fun-runs.

Panhellenic and IFC also work together on Leadership Lab held every spring during the period of officer transition. University counselors also attend and are very helpful with speeches and encouragement for Greeks as campus leaders.

Throughout the year Panhellenic serves as a clearing house providing donors for community blood drives, and participants for campus service projects and other community endeavors.

To promote the Greek system to incoming freshman, Greek information displays are set up during the spring testing process of high school seniors.

The LSU Greek system is a large one and its members are constantly striving to maintain its excellent reputation. The Panhellenic and IFC are the key to maintaining this position.

Greeks play vital role at Iowa

In a large university, sororities and fraternities play a vital role within the school's network. Therefore it is important to promote a positive impression in the entire Greek system. In order for the Greek system to be utilized to its fullest, it must be governed by a strong, central body. Panhellenic to the Greeks is like the U.S. Congress to the citizens of the United States. Panhellenic's power and responsibility lies in its ability to promote the image of the Greek system that we all desire, that is very positive as well as constructive.

At a large university where the surrounding community is very small, the Greek system plays a very important role, so it is important that Panhel represents the system well. The Greeks at the University of Iowa represent about one-third of the undergraduate students, thus it is necessary for Panhel to represent the Greek system in a just and rightful manner.

Striving to promote goodwill in the community and maintain a positive self-image, Panhellenic has sponsored such activities as: collecting $1,500 for a student needing a kidney transplant; sponsored "bed races" promoting Greeks and the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce; helped to organize philanthropies in order to interact with the community; organized "Beach Bash" and tailgate parties to gather students together from all around campus; co-sponsorship of the Homecoming Carnival.

Panhellenic at the University of Iowa is making a real effort to bring together, not only the Greeks and the community, but also the whole student body as one working unit.

Panhellenic and IFC get together at Maryland

Good relationships among Greeks are promoted at Greek Week and Greek Retreat. The week long event is highlighted by competition . . . friendly competition in which sororities and fraternities pair up and contend in various activities such as house decorating, car rallies, softball and various Olympic events.

Every fall at the University of Maryland, Greeks sponsor Dancers Against Cancer—a two day dance marathon in which representatives from each Greek house dance for the cause.

The Greek, a newspaper published twice a semester by Panhellenic and IFC presents the Greek point of view. The Frieze, a Greek yearbook and Freshman Register, a booklet for incoming freshman are also produced by the Greek community.

Panhellenic sends representatives to City Council meetings in College Park to report on city affairs and provide two way communication between sorority women and city administration.

Theta/Fiji service project at Idaho

This year the Beta Theta chapter at the University of Idaho together with the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity organized two service projects with Friends Unlimited. Friends Unlimited is a big brother and big sister organization.

The first project was a Halloween party. Children went door-to-door at the Theta house trick or treating. Then they went to the Fiji's to play carnival games, listen to scary stories, and tour a spook house.

The second event was an Easter party at which children decorated Easter eggs and baskets, and then hunted for eggs. The Easter Bunny made a guest appearance and told an Easter tale.

Miami Panhellenic promotes positive Greek image

Miami University's Panhellenic strives the year around to serve the community and encourage Miami Greeks to work together. Panhellenic and IFC start each year with a blood drive. This succesful project gives Greeks an opportunity to contribute on an individual basis to an important cause. Other projects are a Thanksgiving canned food drive for needy Oxford families, buying Christmas presents for the Oxford orphanage and caroling with the children. At Eastertime children of Miami professors are invited to an Easter egg hunt.

Besides promoting a positive image of Greek life, Panhellenic is recognizing individual members of sororities for their service to the community. Each month each sorority nominates a girl for "Greek of the Month" and Panhellenic picks the girls most worthy of this award. In Oxford and at Miami University the Greeks do present a positive and constructive impression which is helped by a strong panhellenic.

Beth Lazarus

Improving inter-Greek relations is goal at Nevada

The main goal of the University of Nevada's Panhellenic this year was to improve relations within the Greek system. Regular meetings were held to discuss upcoming activities and establish new rush policies which would help the smaller sororities and create a stronger over-all rush program. Joint IFC/Panhellenic meetings helped all groups gain a better understanding and awareness of fraternity and sorority business and concerns.

Other activities were the annual food drive sponsored by Lambda Chi Alpha, participation in blood drives on campus, scheduling guest speakers on career awareness for the benefit of all students, and the publication of a newspaper, The Greek Review and its distribution to all local high schools.

These activities will hopefully improve public relations and community awareness of the benefits that can be derived from a strong Greek System.

UND developing positive outlook

The Panhellenic Association at the University of North Dakota has been busy this year promoting good will in the Grand Forks area.

Last fall Panhellenic took an active part in forming GAAD (Greeks Against Drunk Drivers), which is affiliated with MADD. This is developing a very positive outlook on Greeks from the community.

Greeks also held a high school senior appreciation dinner to give high school students a chance to observe part of the Greek system by going to a specific chapter house for formal dinner.

Highlight of the year was the hosting of the special Olympics. The participation was excellent, from coaches to huggers to crowds cheering them on from the sidelines. Not only was it a beneficial human service but it left us with a feeling of satisfaction.

Great strides made in Oklahoma Greek image

The University of Oklahoma Panhellenic has made many positive strides to promote goodwill in the community and a positive image of Greeks this past year. Three most important projects were Greek Week, the Women's Emphasis Event, and the Weekly Greek Community Council meetings.

"Together We're Better" was the theme of this year's Greek Week. There was a special thrust to engage the whole campus in the activities, especially with the Faculty-Community Reception and the Comedy Night.

Women from all over the state attended Women's Emphasis Week and came to hear Phyllis George speak and to attend educational seminars on such topics as dressing for success and the howtos of job hunting. The event was a successful opportunity to provide a service to the community.

Projects coordinated and sponsored by the Greek Community Council benefitted muscular dystrophy, cancer drive, and the "Keep Norman Beautiful" campaign. Last year's efforts produced a very successful public relations program for the Oklahoma University Panhellenic.

Jennie Fronterhouse

Greeks at Puget Sound strive for friendship, interaction

"No man is an island." This quotation explains the Panhellenic ideal that no fraternity can succeed without the cooperation of other groups. At the University of Puget Sound, Delta Iota is helping to build a positive image for Greeks while encouraging high scholarship and philanthropy. These goals are achieved through several major activities.

Panhellenic initiated Monday night Sub Swap dinners to provide an opportunity for members to intermingle in the Student Union. Because each chapter does not have its own house or dining room, sororities were used to grouping together before chapter meeting in their own section of the university snack bar, promoting a segregated atmosphere. At the Panhellenic initiated sub-swap, sorority members gathered their dinner trays and sat at a placecard marked with their sorority name. Each table had two from each of the six chapters, thus we could meet ten new friends at every meal.

During spring term IFC and Panhellenic teamed up to sponsor the second major event—an all-campus awards dessert. At the Awards Convocation, a Greek man and woman of the year were named. Honors were also given for scholarship, over-all campus service and the Captain Corpuscule award for donating the most "Greek blood."

Communications is the key, and Delta Iota is fortunate this year to have Kristen Berner in the Panhellenic presidency.

Through the many Panhellenic activities and projects, and especially individual Greek attitudes, the Greek system will become more unified and achieve a positive image—one that speaks for itself.

Sydney Stephenson

Beta Zeta scores at Oklahoma St. Greek Week

Once again Panhellenic sponsored its annual Greek Week. This year's theme was "Greek Week . . . It's a Thriller." The purpose of the week long event is to better Greek relations. This year Greeks also interacted with non-Greek students. A concert and magic show were held at Wilham dorm, open to all students. In the school newspaper a Greek Week section featured history, achievements and entertaining facts about each of the groups on campus, thus allowing students to learn more about fraternities and sororities.

Commencing with a dinner exchange, each group had its own theme and dressed accordingly. Next we were paired for the dance marathon which took place outside the student union.

Greek Week concluded with the annual Golden Greek Awards assembly in which Beta Zeta chapter won the highest award—the Dean Patchin Award for the outstanding sorority on campus. We were judged in several areas: scholarship, Panhellenic and campus involvement, pledge class and alumnae relations. Leigh Cusney won the recognition for outstanding pledge scholarship awarded at Golden Greek awards.

USC Panhellenic stages a variety of campus projects

The Greek system at USC continues its excellence thanks to our Panhellenic Council which strives to promote an atmosphere of respect and goodwill towards every fraternity member.

This year Panhellenic has been involved in a wide variety of both civic and local projects. The beginning of the year Panhellenic sponsored a Woman's Awareness Week on campus featuring a diverse group of speakers and interest booths from various companies in the job world.

Panhellenic also sponsored an annual blood drive. An all sorority picnic enables girls to get acquainted and rekindle friendships.

Approaching Christmas, Panhellenic collected toys from all the sororities and sent them to the Los Angeles Trauma Center, making the holidays more enjoyable for the children there.

Much of Spring semester involved orienting new officers and delegates. Greek Week, enriched by a $500 donation from Panhellenic, is our way of uniting all men's and women's fraternities through exciting and fun-filled events. Omicron Thetas won first place this year because of the enthusiasm of the entire chapter as we earned the most points throughout the week. Adding to "row" spirit our Greek system issued an all Greek yearbook for the first time, titled, "The 28th Street Greek Yearbook."

Looking ahead, Panhellenic is planning another Women's Awareness Week, and to increase the bonds of the fraternity system another inter-sorority picnic, as well as a neighbor dessert. The dessert will be held after Monday night dinner for each neighboring sorority. It looks as though we will have a very productive year ahead of us.

Public image at Texas Tech is important

The Texas Tech Panhellenic is very public minded and is doing more each year to establish a positive impression of Greek life to the Lubbock community. The Panhellenic and IFC have a moneymaking project which goes toward the landscaping around the campus Recreation Center, enjoyed by all students.

Panhellenic at Texas Tech has a community relations committee, along with a publicity committee which works toward recognition and community awareness of the individual sorority projects and philanthropies. Faculty Recognition Program is another way of showing appreciation for the university faculty and staff.

Texas Tech Panhellenic has become increasingly involved with Lubbock's SADD (Students Against Drunk Drivers) and MADD (Mothers Against Drunk Drivers). Panhellenic support of these very important groups has gone a long way in helping to establish better relations with the community as a whole.

Tanya Tyer

Goodwill abounds at Texas Christian

Both Panhellenic and the Order of Omega (Greek honorary) at Texas Christian University have worked hard this year to promote unity and goodwill both in Fort Worth and within the smaller community of the university campus itself. The construction of a sidewalk this year connecting Worth Hills, TCU's Greek neighborhood, to the main campus was a long-awaited symbol of the breakdown of prejudices toward both Greek and non-Greek students.

The Order of Omega gained the appreciation of students, faculty, and passers-by when the members sponsored the ceremonial lighting of TCU's Christmas tree; this was followed by two hours of carolling by candlelight, and hot cocoa and cookies inside the Brown-Lupton Student Center. That very special night marked the infectious beginning of TCU's Christmas spirit.

Two months later TCU held its yearly phonathon, designed to solicit donations from alumni. Every fraternity and sorority member worked three hours on the phones.

When Greek Week burst upon the campus a month later, TCU students were invited en masse to a party at a local nightclub, all expenses paid, courtesy of Panhellenic. Panhellenic also sponsored the all university party at the T & P Passenger Station, a train depot which has become a Fort Worth landmark. Money raised at this party was divided among local charities.

Fort Worth residents came into direct contact with Greeks during Hunger Week, a time when money and canned goods were accumulated for the needy. Motorists encountered Greeks at intersection "stick ups," when students solicited contributions from cars waiting at red lights. Greeks at TCU promoted goodwill and friendliness and enjoyed themselves doing it.

Texas A & M Thetas expand service program

This past year, Delta Omega Thetas at Texas A & M made a very successful attempt to increase our range of service programs. Activities under chairmen Dina Sullivan and Sheryl Robinson included a door-to-door collection for the Village of Hope, sponsored by the Christmas Children's Fund of Texas A & M.

We also participated in the stadium cleanup of Kyle Field to earn money for the Institute of Logopedics.

In service to the people of Bryan and College Station, Delta Omegas worked at the College Station Parks and Recreation Department's Halloween Carnival for the children of the area; collected canned goods for the Red Cross for distribution to the local needy; filled Thanksgiving baskets with necessities and took them to a Bryan retirement center. We brought toy bunnies to the children at Bryan's St. Joseph's Hospital this past Easter.

A&M Thetas hope to increase the number and usefulness of service projects in the coming year. We realize that our objective of service can never be given too much emphasis.

Vanderbilt Panhellenic is working harder

The Panhellenic Council at Vanderbilt is working harder than ever to promote a positive Greek image campus wide. At the beginning of school year the Council publishes a brochure for all entering freshmen girls, "Take a Peek at a Greek." This summarizes sorority life in general as well as providing a brief run-down on each individual sorority and its activities. Once the freshmen are settled in and school gets underway, IFC and Panhellenic combine to sponsor the annual "Greek Week." At this time representatives from all Greek organizations gather throughout the week for everything from Pizza eating contests on Alumni Lawn to street dances open to the entire student body. This fun-filled week ends with a free Saturday at famous Opryland, courtesy of Nashville, for all students wearing Greek jerseys—a great opportunity to promote community relations.

The monthly newspaper, The Olympus keeps the campus up-to-date on all the latest Greek activities. With the new pledge classes and warm spring weather, comes the traditional, Panhellenic sponsored pledge picnic, which enables all pledges to get together in Centennial Park and invite any non-Greek friend to join in the festivity.

Quite clearly, the Panhellenic Council at Vanderbilt is striving to improve campus relations and to present a positive Greek image to the Nashville Community.

Chi chapter is "Outstanding on Campus"

Chi chapter at Syracuse is proud and excited to announce that we have won, for the second year in a row, the University award for Outstanding Sorority on Campus. Each year the University awards the Eunice B. Hilton cup to honor the overall outstanding sorority. It is nearly unheard of to win this cup two years in a row. Judges base their decision on a report submitted by members of the chapter that includes involvement in community and university events, scholarship, alumnae relations and development. The several Syracuse University administrators acting as judges are invited to each chapter house to meet the members and talk with them. We are proud to say that these judges ruled unanimously in favor of Chi chapter.

Each sorority chapter is a member of the college Panhellenic. At Syracuse, the president, Lexie McFarland is a Chi Theta. We are proud of Lexie's involvement. At the meeting of the Northeastern Panhellenic Conference and Northeastern Interfraternity Council last winter in Philadelphia, Lexie was elected president of NEPC. She is the first Theta to be president of a regional panhellenic.

work trend to make its impact. Theta needs volunteers at all levels. While there is all-around growth in the fraternity, the number of alumnae available to guide that growth is diminishing. To learn how you can help, see left column, then enlist in the Theta Personnel Patrol.

Signing off

This is my last issue as editor of the Kappa Alpha Theta Magazine, a position I have held for nine years. I will miss my association with all levels of the fraternity. I have held a few jobs for Theta, but none has given me greater pride in the fraternity as a whole. There is a lot of good news out there and great accomplishment—perhaps more than I could handle adequately in the pages of the Magazine.

My goal has been to keep you well informed on fraternity affairs and to give as broad exposure as space permitted to the activities and achievements of our members. One regret is that I never had time to read my textbook, "Editing the Small Magazine." I was too busy doing it to read about it. I hope my successor will find it useful.

The editorship has been more than a job. It has been an all-consuming challenge. Now "the days dwindle down to a precious few" and retirement is not just something to talk about. It is staring me in the face. Your "loyalty in Theta" has made a great impression on your Kappa Alpha Theta Magazine.

We Need You!

Enlist in the Theta Personnel Patrol

The Director of Personnel is attempting to identify Thetas who are qualified and interested in serving as district and special officers. If you would like a rewarding job in fraternity work, look no further. Fill out the form below and send it to the Director of Personnel, Judy Ruedlinger, #5 Donlon Cove, New Smyrna Beach, FL 32069. In addition the Director of Personnel is compiling a file of "experts" in special interest areas such as law, graphics, music etc. You can add your name to one of these special files.

Fraternity autonomy on the agenda again

There is a need for Kappa Alpha Theta and all fraternities to maintain autonomy

"As you go back to your colleges and your communities, know that there are more than 2,000,000 American and Canadian fraternity women. Together we should be able to accomplish much," NPC Delegate Norma Jorgensen told Thetas and guests at the Panhellenic luncheon at Grand Convention in June. She called for a solid front which must be developed to maintain our right of private voluntary association which is a democratic privilege. Vigilance and Unity is imperative to preserve this right, as autonomy of fraternities is again being challenged.

Norma Jorgensen recalled that when fraternities were struggling a few years ago, help was hard to find. Now after years of peaceful, benign neglect, everybody wants to get into the act. "Fraternities are succeeding, and succeeding is a mild word—they are exploding—and everyone wants to tell us what to do and of course what not to do.

"You have no doubt noted in the press that several colleges and universities have had pressure from their faculties to do away with the fraternity system, or at least to modify it radically to meet their wishes. Two fine eastern colleges which in the past hosted strong Greek systems have recently banned Greeks entirely—Amherst College in Massachusetts and Colby College in Maine. We have to wonder if all of us had tried harder, could these campuses have been saved? At least the Greek system has been alerted to the critical state of faculty and administration thinking."

Edward Fiske says, in a New York Times article entitled "More Colleges Show Concern About Life in Their Residences," "After more than a decade of giving students as much social independence as possible, colleges and universities around the country are becoming more heavily involved in the non-academic life of their students." Shannon Ellis, associate director of residential life at the University of Southern California pin points the change as universities become more involved in the non-academic life of their students: "In loco parentis is out. Now we are groping around to define a new relationship between the individual and the institution." But skirting the individual for the time being, the Greek system is first in line in defining the relationship with the college, "and this," says Norma Jorgensen, "is serious business.

"A statement of expectations, an agreement concerning who is responsible for what, between college and fraternities, is not an unreasonable concept at this point in time," she said.

"IFCs and Panhellenics should have a part in devising them. Trust must be developed and nurtured and to that end we need to give thought and direction. It is a project which the Greek world must undertake in its own best interest. Turf needs to be designated, and fraternity people and college administrators need to agree upon the current question, "Whose chapters are they anyway?"

Autonomy and the college chapter "Autonomy. The right of self-government, occ. specialized as political, local or administrative; personal freedom." the Oxford Dictionary.

In fraternities, autonomy means the right of the organization to develop its own constitution and bylaws, to choose its own members and to create and implement operational, disciplinary and programmatic procedures, policies and standards.

National and international fraternities are private, voluntary associations which individuals can choose to join or not to join. As such, under the Constitution of the United States, fraternities have the right of self-government.

Although collegiate fees were raised at the Grand Convention in June to help meet the rising costs of operating a fraternity in today's world, we continue to need the support of each and every Theta if we are to maintain our position of leadership in the Greek world.

Your dollars, given in appreciation of the joys and friendships Kappa Alpha Theta has brought you through the years, provide the "extras" for extension and programming which keep Theta's kite flying ever higher. Therefore, it is with special gratitude that we list all 1984 contributors whose donations were received prior to August 1, 1984, in recognition of their support and loyalty. On behalf of Grand Council, THANK YOU!

Article lauds fraternity renovations

A recent New York Times article focused on renovation work on the Sigma Pi chapter house at the University of California at Berkeley and the Sigma Nu chapter house at the University of Kansas. The article also highlighted the general movement toward better care of houses across the nation. It was noted that “during the early 70s, many fraternity houses fell into a state of disrepair when more and more students chose not to join fraternities.” But the continuing growth of the fraternity movement has promoted an “increasing interest in restoring chapter houses.” The Sigma Pi house at Cal Berkeley was built of wood and clinker-brick in 1909, and is considered one of the best examples of the work of Pasadena architects Charles and Henry Greene. The Sigma Nu house at the University of Kansas was built in 1907 as a mansion for Governor Walter R. Stubbs.

The Archives Need Your Help

by Mary Edith Arnold, Archivist

The Kappa Alpha Theta Archives are a collection of records and memorabilia that have been continually growing since the 1899 convention voted for its establishment. First placed with Tau at Northwestern, the collection was moved to Stanford in 1903. The records remained with Phi until they were sent to Alpha at DePauw in 1926. To enable easier day-to-day access, the archives were moved to Central Office in Evanston in 1966. Now they are located in the Kappa Alpha Theta Headquarters in Indianapolis.

Throughout all these earlier years, correspondence concerning the archives often mentions the problems of space and locating needed materials to "complete the collection." In 1912, L. Pearle Green wrote to a newly appointed archivist, "We are very anxious that the archives can come to be of real value and that we may there collect our fraternity history before it is too late."

She went on to say, "I hope you will devise some method of collecting the sort of things that should be in archives and then some persuasive manner of collecting the same." Bless those early archivists who made every effort to locate and keep needed records! We do have a marvelous collection! It is of "real value," as Miss Green had hoped it would be. Because space was always a problem, however, some materials that would have shed even more light on the evolution of the fraternity were discarded to make room for records that were absolutely essential to keep. Often, familiar materials did not seem "archival." Some records were even lost in a natural disaster, the 1906 San Francisco earthquake.

Now with our new headquarters established, we do have space: two rooms specifically designed for the care and preservation of archival records. At the same time, we have grown to be especially aware that a collection documenting the history of an organization founded by and for women well over a century ago is very valuable to both the fraternity and future historians.

With help from alumnae and their families, we would like to enrich our collection and make it more complete. We would be pleased to receive photographs (dates and identification on a separate sheet of paper, if possible,) diaries, correspondence, special scrapbooks, copies of speeches, newspaper clippings, early fraternity publications, chapter histories and convention reports from earlier decades, alumnae chapter and club cookbooks . . . any records that document the activities, concerns and decisions of the members, chapters and alumnae of Kappa Alpha Theta.

We, also, would like to begin a small representative collection of accessories and convention memorabilia that have belonged to members, such as jewelery, fans, purses, handkerchiefs and shawls . . . some small items that would help our rotating historical displays in the headquarters come alive. If you have items that would help illuminate any of the eleven decades our organization has spanned, and would like to contribute them to this project, please contact the fraternity archivist. Help us fill in the missing pieces in our collective memory! Remember . . . even our last convention is history!

Archives donor forms are available from the archivist or Central Office: Kappa Alpha Theta, 8740 Founders Road, Indianapolis, Indiana, 46268.

Albion Claims Panhellenic Award and Hofstead Scholar

Leadership makes the difference. Take one highly motivated Theta who is a "true believer" in the fraternity ideal, and a Panhellenic which is determined to upgrade the Greek system on its campus, and some kind of positive result is bound to happen. At Albion College in Michigan, Kappa Alpha Theta conferred the Panhellenic Achievement Award for the 1982-84 biennium on the Albion Panhellenic where the results of leadership are highly visible, benefitting the College as well as the Greek System.

Albion is the home of Theta's Pi chapter, and Martha Wentworth who was a prime mover in the emergence of a "creditable" Greek system there is one of the winners of the Ellen Bowers Hofstead Educational Trust Fund Scholarships.

What's been going on at Albion to merit all this commendation? Plenty. Albion is a deferred rush campus which means that formal rush takes place second semester. The Panhellenic reasoned that freshmen needed to be familiarized with the Greek system in a positive way during the semester they were unaffiliated and making up their minds about Greek membership. GAP was formed, the Greek Awareness Program that provides an overview of Greek life without focusing on individual sororities. It serves as a resource for prospective rushees where they can ask questions and get unbiased answers. It provides an opportunity to meet new people and socialize . . . a preparation for spring rush. GAP is structured to present a different aspect of sorority life at each of Albion's six sorority lodges. For instance, scholarship chairmen were present at the Pi Beta Phi lodge to discuss scholarship expectations. The presidents gathered at the Theta lodge to talk about leadership opportunities. At Kappa Delta, the treasurers explained financial responsibilities. Philanthropy and service projects were outlined at Alpha Xi Delta. At Alpha Chi Omega the chaplains of each group gathered in a candlelit room to discuss with the freshmen the inspiration and serious side of membership. Delta Gamma hosted Panhellenic delegates who explained the Panhellenic Council and the process of spring rush.

The importance of the fraternity idea is emphasized at pledge night when part of the celebration includes all sorority pledges getting together to repeat the National Panhellenic Conference Creed. They pledge their support to the ideals of NPC and to the purposes of the fraternity system. A non-alcoholic pledge night was started by Pi chapter this past year following years of community criticism of the Greek system concerning alcohol use during pledge celebrations among both the men's and women's fraternities.

Planning ahead, Panhellenic is now working on projected enrollment declines with chapter advisers to determine what would be considered the "financial comfort zone," if a predicted decline in students materializes. Panhellenic arranged for David Westol, a prosecuting attorney and authority on fraternity liability to speak on "Alcohol Awareness and Liability."

Recognition of the outstanding contribution of this Panhellenic goes far beyond the campus. The State of Michigan Award was conferred on the Panhellenic for its outstanding contribution to the city of Albion, when more than 500 Greeks participated during Greek Week in cleaning and painting the city.

Martha Wentworth, a Hofstead Scholarship winner fits into the picture of progress and accomplishment in the Greek system at Albion. That Martha is a leader, there is ample testimony from those qualified to know. Jan Coates, Assoc. Dean for Campus Programs and Organizations at Albion states that Martha has carried out her Panhellenic duties effectively and represents the very best in Greek membership. She is a believer in the ideals of fraternity and strives to uphold them through responsible membership, high personal standards and active participation in Panhellenic. She will serve as treasurer this year. Dr. James Diedrick of the Department of English describes Martha as an extremely responsible young woman who assumes leadership roles, such as the position of news editor of the student newspaper. "She contributed her characteristic conscientiousness and care in making the paper readable and respected."

Theta leaders such as Martha Wentworth are a significant factor in creating a functioning, respected Panhellenic on any campus.
